

2017 Raw Science Film Festival Award Winner

"Everything a science film should be."

-Lisa Randall, Frank B. Baird, Jr., Professor of Science, Harvard University

"I came away with a newfound appreciation for Curie's significant accomplishments. I'd consider this required viewing for any student – of science, of history, of humanity itself."

-Maia Weinstock, Science Writer & Creator of LEGO Women of NASA

"Susan Marie Fronzak's portrait captures Curie's courage, curiosity, fragility, edge, and passion, and her storytelling transports the audience into the world of her laboratory and life.

This film is a rare find."

Holly Walter Kerby, Executive Director, Fusion Science Theater

humanityneedsdreamers.org

Produced by STEM on Stage

2018 Women in Science & Engineering Conference presents a film screening of

HUMANITY NEEDS DREAMERS: A Visit With Marie Curie

Moderated by filmmaker Jen Myronuk with Scholar & Performer Susan Marie Frontczak (via Skype)

SATURDAY, MARCH 3, 2018
Husky Union Bldg, UW Seattle Campus

Register Online: www.engr.uw.edu/wisecconf or contact uwwise@uw.edu